

MEDIATIONS OF A GRADUATE

Oh Lord, please listen to this prayer
From one who's drifted through the years,
B.C.'s doors are open now
And a new outside world appears.

It's not just for myself I pray,
Gazing through this great expanse;
I can see many more with me;
Some remain and some advance.

Help me to endure the trials,
I know I'll be put to the test,
Help me to learn by my mistakes,
I'll try hard to do my best.

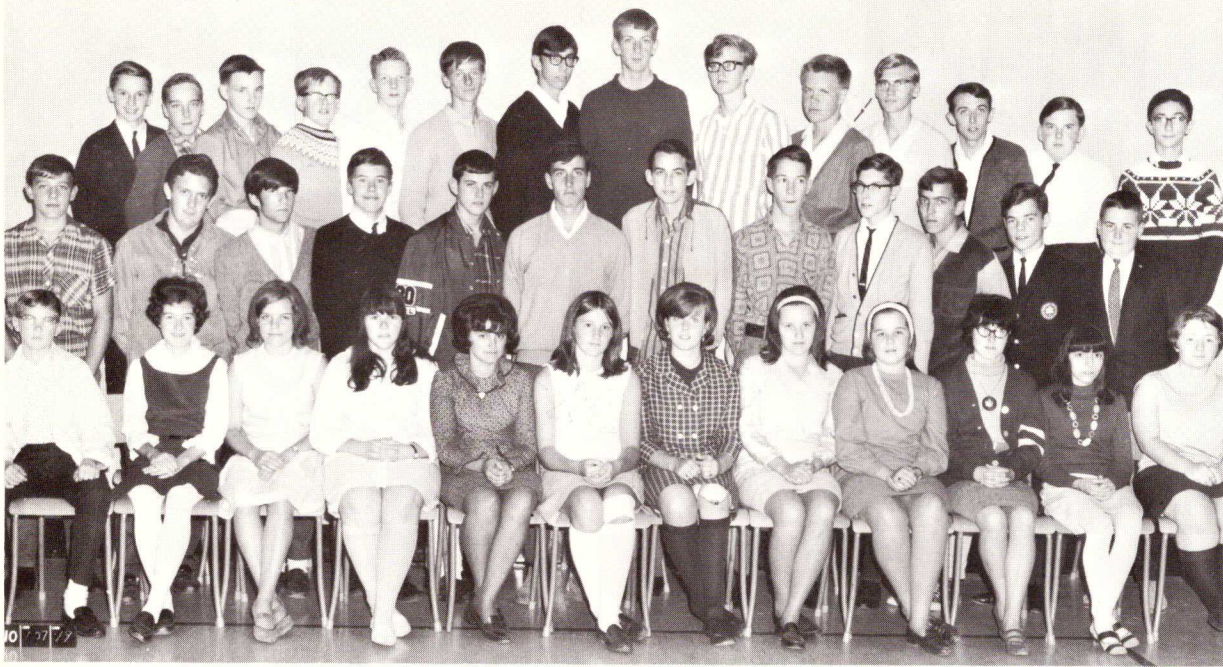

I know the things I must not do
From everything that I have heard,
But in time I'll really know
For one must never go by word.

Guide me carefully along,
Showing me which trail to track;
For in this busy world of ours
There's never time for turning back.

I'll climb the stairway to success,
But should I stumble on the way;
Help me rise and carry on,
For far behind I must not stay.

As I say my last farewell,
I also say a thank-you prayer
For all the treasured memories
And friends like those who are so rare.

A biography of Grade 10-A's is not difficult to write, The teachers all regret the day and often all the night, That they are often called upon to teach so many a rowdy pupil. They pass out punishments all day, We give them back, quadruple!

10-B is active -- both in class and out of school, as our teachers can testify. Opinions are varied as to our behavior, but we can assure the staff that this is merely our suppressed vitality and genius bubbling through to the surface. Our discussion periods breed storms of new ideas varying from school spirit to scientific phenomena. Class loyalty is prominent in our united character. This and our spirit will carry us to a successful future.

Our class is made up of members of the hockey team, soccer, badminton, curling, volleyball, and our own cheerleader. If you really want to see what our class is like, drop in during Geometry class when 'Huck' is on the loose.

A definite boon to all mankind, we're a class with nothing on it's mind -- we're vacant.
Betty and Lorne are our claim to fame, Pests they are -- to give them name -- they're vacant.
It's Friday -- "Bub" is to a meet. No one's sitting in his seat -- it's vacant.

Mischievous? Well every class is sometimes! We have a few class giggles and talkers, but all the teachers love us!??..... Linda's giggles will leave an echo in B.C.S.' hallowed halls, and Jackie's honda will leave tire tracks on the pavement outside? Madonna(miser?) takes good care of the school treasury. We of 10-F will proceed on to a future which we know will be as much fun as the present.

Our class is a good example of intelligence, manners and other things, too numerous to mention. Art is the quiet one who contributes the most in Miss Stavert's classes. At all our hockey games, Judy and Lynda cheer the team on as the puck quickly pushes its way past our goalie. Colline is our hippy. To her hippies are the greatest things ever invented. Comments anyone? Mr. Ferguson will tell you if you ask about the quiet, refined little group in the back of the room. It consists of Janice, Francis, and Doug. We like 10-G and we think everyone should have one.
