

P r i n c
i
p a l

Expectations '68 is probably the outstanding visible example of student activity during the 1967-68 school year. In this yearbook are recorded the activities in which students have been engaged.

To the editors and the staff I offer both my congratulations and my thanks for an excellent job.

To the students, as well, I offer congratulations. To many of you who have striven for excellence in your academic program. Not all of you can be honours students. Yet to those of you who have truly worked to the limits of your abilities and have achieved in relation to this effort, praise is richly merited. There is no shame in failure if it comes after you have exerted a maximum effort.

The desire for excellence and the habit of exerting a maximum effort will serve you well in years to come. If you do not have these qualities it is time to develop them.

W P i r c e n t i c i p a l

My congratulations to the staff of the Yearbook. Once again you have done a worthwhile job in the publishing of "Expectations" and you deserve much praise for it.

It is the task of the yearbook to provide for the students a record of activities during the year. "Expectations" has not failed in its duty and may you, the students, in the years to come, look back with happy memories of this period in your life.

To you, the graduates, I offer good wishes and success in your chosen field. Although this is the end of your high school training, may it not be the end of your education. Remember that we never stop learning. To those of you returning, I trust that you will make a conscientious effort in your studies and you will find success.

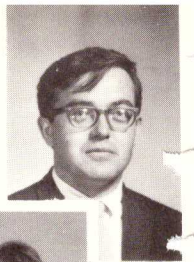

Flora Nicholson

Mr. Avery

Mr. Thomas

Mr. Ferguson

Miss McLeod

Mrs. Lutes

Miss Stavert

Mr. Clarke

Mr. J. A. Murray

Mr. Holmes

Mrs. Forteath

Mrs. Morgan

Mrs. McDonald

Miss McAskill

Mrs. Ritchie

Mrs. Gillis

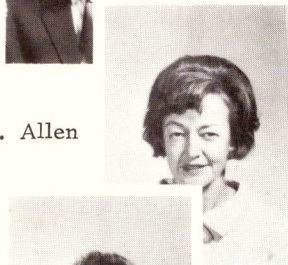

Mr. Antonowicz

Mr. Kazamel

Mr. Connors

Mrs. Allen

Mr. Gaudet

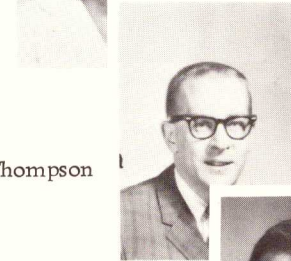

Mrs. McColl

Mr. Ranohawa

Miss Fancey

Mr. Thompson

Mr. Zinck

Mr. Streifling

Mr. J. R. Murray

Miss Bolton

Mrs. Bhatnagar